actress Mary Pickford.

Recently, Bowman students were amazed by a special, interactive assembly designed to inspire optimism and goal-setting activities presented by the Mary Pickford Institute Outreach Program. This one-woman show told the inspirational story of “America’s Sweetheart,”

The play included valuable insight into the birth of the film industry and to the first female million dollars in a single year! The Mary Pickford Institute for Film Education is a non-profit organization whose goal is to “provide a bridge from moviemaking for scholars, general public.”
